A BETTER LIBRARY

Introduction

Since our school library is becoming bigger soon, I want to propose ~~some~~ my plan concerning the improvements that could be made.

New service

Due to our library now being only a place where students take and return books, I suggest opening a ~~booked~~ book club - a room specifically for reading, studying and discussing books.

Equipment and organization

The book club should be equipped with comfortable sofas and armchairs, a whiteboard, desks with computers on them for studying. The planning committee should search for enthusiasts eager to find club members and schedule meetings and studying hours. They might also organize special literature lessons, poetry competitions, etc.

The benefits of opening a book club

Firstly, it provides students with a quiet and convenient studying space, which is especially important for children from big families. Secondly, book club meetings can help students develop analysing skills and as a result increase their performance in literature lessons. Lastly, it can attract newcomers from schools that don't have well-equipped libraries.

In conclusion

I believe that my suggestion for library innovation has a lot of potential to involve students in school life. I hope that you will take my proposal ~~in~~ consideration.
