ANSWER SHEET 09-02

I: Today's guest is a writer, famous for her captivating books, Jane Baker, who's finally back home after living abroad. Hello, Jane! We'd like to ask you five questions about your life here and your work. Shall we start?

JB: Hello! Let's get started.

I: First, how long have you been living in your hometown?

JB: I've been living there my whole childhood. Even after all these years, it's still nice to roam around familiar neighbourhoods.

I: Okay... And how did you feel after leaving?

JB: At first, it was really hard to get used to new people, talks, places... but as the time went by, I've grown to love it there.

I: Thank you. What was the most impressive change you had noticed about the town at your arrival?

JB: Oh, nothing has changed much while I wasn't here. Although, I'd like to point out the fact that the streets have become cleaner than I remember. I'm glad citizens care about their towns look.

I: Okay. Moving on to your works. Recently, it's been announced that you're planning a new kids' book. Say, what was the inspiration for the story?

JB: Mostly, my own childhood experiences. You see, when I was younger, I used to have a friend group. We used to play and hang out together, which, of course, brings back many memories.

I: Could you please tell about one of them?

JB: Well... We'd once been to an old house on the town's outskirts. Many believe that there are ghosts living there...

I: Really? What a mystery! Well, thank you for your answers. Looking forward to the new books release!

JB: Thank you!

JB: Hello! Let's get started.

1 leg I: First, how long have you been living in your hometown?

JB: I've been living there my whole ^{childhood?} ^{living abroad?} childhood. Even after all these years, it's still nice to roam around familiar neighbourhoods.

2 I: Okay... And how did you feel after leaving?

JB: At first, it was really hard to get used to new people, talks, places... but as the time went by, I've grown to love it there.

3 I: Thank you. What was the most impressive change you had noticed about the town at your arrival?

leg JB: Oh, nothing has changed much while I wasn't here. Although, I'd like to point out the fact that the streets have become cleaner than I remember. I'm glad citizens care about their town's look.

4 I: Okay. Moving on to your works. Recently, it's been announced that you're planning a new kids' book. Say, what was the inspiration for the story?

JB: Mostly, my own childhood experiences. You see, when I was younger, I used to have a friend group. We used to play and hang out together, which, of course, brings back many memories.
