Book inspired by the changes

1 leg Jane Baker is a well-known writer who has just returned to her home after couple years of living abroad. We have interviewed her about her future book for children and also found out James opinion about the changes in her hometown. sp

1 I: You've just come back from your three years journey. How does finally being home feels after such a long period of time? sp

JB: You know, I've had wonderful time travelling, visiting a lot of places, meeting new people, it was a great experience, but I did really miss the feeling of home.

2 I: I've heard that there has been a lot of changes in your hometown. What do you think about them?

JB: The government decided to take the problem of lacking child-friendly environment seriously. Within the past year they've managed to build over 20 community spaces available for children, which is in my opinion a great result. sp

3 I: Let's talk about your future book. What is it going to be about?

JB: It's a beautiful story about group of friends' summer holiday adventures. sp

4 I: That sounds interesting! Is the plot somehow related to the changes in your town? p

JB: You're absolutely right! In fact, the story takes place there!

5 I: So when the book is going to come out? wo

JB: I'm on early stages of writing it, so I suppose you're going to wait for about a couple years. sp

This was our interview with Jane Baker, ~~please~~ we hope you're waiting for the release of her new book as much as we do!
