COMEBACK WITH A NEW STORY

Jane Baker, a well-known author who was born in our town, has finally come back after living abroad for a while, with a plan for a new book. We asked her to give us some insights into her life here and her future book, and she kindly agreed. Here is the interview we have conducted.

1) I: Ms. Baker, you've been out of the town for quite some time. ~~How~~ <sup>How</sup> does returning back home feel like?

JB: It's always great to return back to a place where you've spent a significant part of your life. Though many things have changed, I'm happy that the town didn't lose its unique spirit.

2) I: And how exactly do you feel about these changes?

JB: Well, I remember this place being a quiet peaceful area with almost nothing to see and do. ~~On the surface~~ <sup>of course</sup>. But now there are many malls and attractions here. Overall, I believe that this advancement is always beneficial.

3) I: Thank you. Now, <sup>for</sup> our main topic. Could you tell our readers something about a book you are planning to write?

JB: Yes, with pleasure. It's going to be based on a real story from my childhood. A group of friends find out that there is a huge cave near their town and goes on to investigate it. ~~There, they face some challenges and discover a mystery of the town.~~ <sup>unravel the</sup>

4) I: Sounds intriguing! Did you mention that it's based on a true story?

JB: That's right. When I was eleven, I found out that there ~~is~~<sup>was</sup> an abandoned house in the forest<sup>110</sup> near our town.

~~It was like a vault with treasure for me. Unfortunately,~~ it's no longer there.

5) I: Why did you change it to a cave?

JB: Mostly because I want<sup>110</sup> to write something truly breath-taking. A cave seems more mysterious<sup>115</sup> to me.

I: ~~Okay.~~<sup>Sounds reasonable.</sup> Thank you very much<sup>120</sup> for the interview!
We are looking forward to reading your book.

JB: Thank you!
